The Government Order is, however, not clear as to the incidence of the charge (i.e) whether the difference of pay is to be borne by the State or by the Imperial Government. In the case of Government servants of the British Government, the whole allowances are paid by the Civil Department for the first three months and by the - - Military Department for the rest of their service with the Defence Force. How the allowances are to be regulated in respect of Mysore Government servants is not clear. I therefore request that the question may be settled in communication, if necessary, with the Government of India and final orders issued for guidance. Letter No. 014613/1 (A.G.6), dated the 29th November 1918, from the Adjutant General in India, to the First Assistant to the Resident in Mysore.

I am directed to refer to the correspondence ending with your letter No. 7604 dated the 6th November 1918, regarding the pay of Mr. L. A. H. Winckler an assistant engineer of the Mysore State during the period he was called out for military duty with the Indian Defence Force.

In reply thereto, I am to inform you that the annexure referred to in letter No. 49688/4 (A.G.4), dated 11th July 1917 affects only members of the Indian Defence Force who are servants of the Government of India.

When called out for military duty with the Indian Defence Force, pay would be issued to Mr. Winckler under paragraph 239 of the Indian Defence Force Regulations. This expenditure would be borne by the Government of India.

I am also to inform you, that if the enquiry is whether such individuals should be paid under the "Next below" rule, I am to say that this is a question for disposal by the Durbar concerned.

Pay.

(A). Non-officials.

239. Officers and soldiers other than Government servants may draw pay and allowances under the following regulations:-

Pay & allowances (non-officials).

(a) When called out for general military service or ordered to perform actual military duty under Rules 22 and 23, Indian Defence Force Rules, 1917, or

(b) During the period of attachment, when detailed to proceed for a course of instruction to a regular or territorial unit, or

(c) During the period of attendance when detailed to attend any authorised or local course of instruction under the orders of the Officer Commanding the Division, or

(d) For the actual days spent in travelling by the shortest route to and from their places of residence to and from the unit or corps to which they are detailed as in (b) and (c) above.

(1) Subject to the provisions of the following paragraphs, every officer and soldier is entitled to the Indian pay ~~and soldier is entitled to the Indian pay~~ and allowances for the time being admissible in the like circumstances to a person of corresponding rank in the British Regular Forces.

Generally.

(2) Every officer and soldier is entitled to the rations for the time being admissible to a person of corresponding rank in the British Regular Forces.

Rations.

E.C.A. ...(3) Officers will be granted Exchange Compensation Allowance.

(4) Soldiers who are not required to live away from their homes will be granted in addition to ordinary army pay and allowances a daily lodging allowance of 8 annas if single or Rs.1 if married. In such cases they may also draw a ration allowance in lieu of rations in kind at the rate annually fixed by the Controller of Military Accounts under Army Regulations, India, Volume I, paragraph 643 (g).

Lodging allowance.

(5) (a) A soldier who has at least two years' service in the the Indian Volunteer Force ~~and~~ or Indian Defence Force and who was returned as "efficient" for the two volunteer years immediately preceding calling out will be eligible for Class II Proficiency Pay at annas 8 per diem.

Proficiency pay.

(b) Non-commissioned officers of and above the rank of sergeant on completion of two years' service in the Indian Volunteer Force ~~and~~ or Indian Defence Force, and soldiers below the rank of sergent who have at least two years' service in the Indian Volunteer Force ~~and~~ or Indian Defence Force and were returned as "extra efficient" for the two volunteer years immediately preceding calling out, will be eligible for Class I Proficiency Pay at annas 6 per diem.

(c) The above grant of proficiency pay does not extend to soldiers in Electrical Engineer Companies, and is in all cases conditional upon the non-commissioned officer or man being certified by his Commanding Officer as efficient in the duties of his rank in the arm of the service to which he belongs, having regard to the function to which his unit is assigned. The fact that the Commanding Officer put the man in regimental orders as qualified for proficiency pay will be taken as certifying him under this sub-paragraph. When a Commanding Officer considers that a man is no longer qualified under this sub-paragraph, he will withdraw the grant of proficiency pay in regimental orders.

(6) Soldiers of Electrical Engineer Companies, called out for actual military service, are granted instead of proficiency pay, a special rate of engineer pay, which is admissible (except as provided in sub-clause III below) for every day they are present and effective, at the undermentioned rates:-

Engineer pay.

	Rs.	A.	P.
1st rate	1	8	0
2nd rate	1	4	0
3rd rate	0	12	0

(I) The following are the conditions under which engineer pay is granted:-

1st rate to men classed as Expert.
2nd rate to men classed as Extra-efficient.
3rd rate to men classed as Efficient.

Note.

Note:- For the year ending 31st March 1918 the classification of expert, extra-efficient and efficient will be that earned in the Volunteer Force in the preceding year under Army Regulations, India, Volume IX, and thereafter as laid down by regulation.

(II) No allowance for overtime is permissible except when an engine driver is employed as such in excess of the ordinary working hours for continuous periods, in which case he may be granted engineer pay at one-fourth of his daily rate for each two hours in excess, if specially sanctioned by the Officer Commanding.

(III) Engineer pay is not admissible for any day on which pay is forfeited, or when:-

(a) In receipt of extra duty pay, except to a non-commissioned officer granted extra duty pay for acting in a higher rank.

(b) On the sick list in hospital or in quarters as the result of alcoholism or venereal disease.

(c) Under close arrest charged with an offence of which afterwards found guilty.

(d) Confined to barracks or camp (even though employed at his craft while so confined).

(e) Awarded punishment for an offence under the Army Act. A non-commissioned officer or man shall, on conviction by court-martial or by a civil court revert to the next lower rate to that of which he was in receipt at the time of conviction.

General zeal and activity while on work, as well as skill will be considered as elements of qualifications for advancement to any rating for engineer pay.

(7) When an officer or soldier engaged on actual military service

Pension. is wounded in action or otherwise injured in the performance of military duty, or where an officer or soldier so engaged is killed in action or dies of wounds or injuries so received, or disease so contracted, he or any member of his family, as the case may be, shall be entitled to the pension, gratuity or compassionate allowance admissible in the like circumstances to a person of corresponding rank in the British regular forces under the Royal Warrant for the time being in force.

(8) Officers and soldiers who are not Government servants will Issue. will be paid by the Divisional Disbursing Officer of the Division in which the individual is serving.

When the use of a nominal roll is not sanctioned under the conditions of service mentioned below, the Pay and Mess Book and Pay Bill forms, etc., of British Troops of the Regular Forces will be used and the accounts will be prepared by the Divisional Disbursing Officer of the Division in which the individual is serving in accordance with the procedure laid down in "Instructions for the Payment of British Troops serving in India." Copies of this publication will be supplied upon indent to all Commanding Officers of the Indian Defence Force by the Superintendent, Government Printing, Calcutta.

To enable the Divisional Disbursing Officer to prepare the accounts of the unit, the Commanding Officer will furnish him with a nominal roll of all officers and soldiers under his command showing the date upon which they were called out or otherwise entitled to receive pay under these regulations and whether in Government employment or not.

Soldiers other than Government servants who are separated from their families or dependants as a result of being called out for general military service or actual military duty or owing to attendance at a course of instruction or while attached for training to a Regular or Territorial Unit, will be required to make allotments from their pay for the benefit of their families or dependants which will entitle them to the grant of a separation allowance when such an allowance is admissible. For this purpose I.A.F.F.-1000 for married and single men and A.F.O.-1838, O.-1838, A., O.-1839 and O.-1840 in addition for single men will be completed and sent to the Divisional Disbursing Officer of the Division in which the individual is serving. In the case of married men an additional column should be opened in I.A.F. F.-1000 showing the number of children. These forms should be carefully completed in order to avoid delay in the payment of separation allowance.

(9) When officers and soldiers are called out for general military service or for actual military duty for short periods of less than a month, or are entitled to receive pay under these regulations during attendance at a course of instruction or while attached for training to a Regular or Territorial Unit a nominal roll showing the period in respect of which and the rate at which pay may be drawn will be submitted by the Officer Commanding the Indian Defence Force Unit to which they belong to the Divisional Disbursing Officer of the Division in which they are serving instead of a Pay and Mess Book.

Issue of pay, short periods.

(10) When officers and soldiers are called out for service in a General Service Unit their pay and allowances under this paragraph will be issued under the arrangements of the Officer Commanding the General Service Unit.

Pay in a General Service Unit.

H.E. Brown and G. E. Brown of the Electrical Department, I have the honor to state that under para 239 of the Indian Defence Force Regulations, only the Military pay and allowances are admissible to the Browns, and they are chargeable to the Government of India. Under Government Order No.G.1587-637/G.M.200-17-3 dated 7th August 1917, they were paid the difference between the Civil and the Military pay and allowances and this order is not definite as to the incidence of the charge i.e., whether the difference is payable by us or the Government of India. The excess over Military Pay and allowance in the case of Officers of the Government of India will also be paid by the Government of India. In the case of non-officials under which category the officials of the Mysore Government would come, definite orders are required as to who should bear the excess paid according to the next below rule.
